What do parents say about us?

“We chose The Codrington School for our children’s education because Codrington pursues and embodies the very ethos of excellence through the International Baccalaureate program. We, as a family, are privileged to be part of this stimulating environment of dedicated teachers who encourage and assist our children to be the best that they can be. Seeking and attaining excellence is the root codon of the DNA of The Codrington School.”

Raymond Mckenzie —Parent

“My husband and I chose The Codrington School because we believe an IB education is the direction of the future and will best prepare our children for life in the 21st Century. We hope our children will go on to pursue university degrees overseas, and we have noted that more and more universities in the USA, Canada and the UK are seeking students with IB Diplomas. We specifically chose this school based on the strength of its programmes, the quality of its teachers and its administrative staff and also the nurturing and enriching learning environment provided by its beautiful campus. After our first week, we are very pleased with our initial interactions with the teachers, administrative staff and parents as they all have been extremely welcoming, professional and helpful. However, the greatest confirmation that we made the right choice, has been in the smiles and excitement of our children at the end of each day so far!”
